Dear Sir:

Pursuant to 37 CFR 1.56 and in accordance with 37 CFR 1.97, Applicant submits this Information Disclosure Statement including enclosed form PTO-1449. These references appeared in an International Search Report dated January 18, 1999.

The patent, 5,262,055, 11/16/93, to Bae et al. discusses an artificial pancreas system with islets in a polymeric matrix that is insoluble at body temperature.

The patent 5,441,732, 08/15/95, to Hoeg et al. discusses reversible gelling aqueous and oil emulsions that undergo changes in viscosity in response to substantially simultaneous changes in both temperature and pH.

PCT/US96/10376, discusses a polymer network exhibiting the property of reversible gelation in response to a change in an environmental stimulus.

PCT/US91/01884, discusses acrylamide polymers that, when mixed with water solvent, provide thermoreversible solutions that form low viscosity melts at temperatures separated by a third region of maximum viscosity.

PCT/US91/04104, discusses reversibly gelling aqueous compositions which undergo significant changes in viscosity in response to substantially simultaneous changes in both temperature and pH.

European Patent No. 0 534 015 A1, discusses thermally reversible graft copolymer comprising a vinyl polymer graft-polymerized to a polymer of N-substituted acrylamide or methacrylamide derivatives.

Respectfully submitted,
